

I strongly oppose changes in the current regulations limiting ownership of media outlets. The concentration of power that would follow from a reduction in the number of owners would limit freedom of speech in this country and in general be a very bad thing.